

ANIMAL HISTORIES: HUMANS AND NON-HUMANS

Seminar

Department of History
Nobelparken, 1461/515
Wednesday 23 May 2018

Programme:

09:15-09:30: Welcome, introduction

09:30-10:30: Taina Syrjämaa (University of Turku), Animal agency and interspecific histories

10:30-10:45: Coffee

10:45-11:45: Anne Katrine Gjerløff (Natural History Museum of Denmark), When history goes to the dogs – perspectives on researching and communicating (nonhuman) animal histories

11:45-13:00: Lunch (can be purchased from Nobelparken canteen)

13:00-14:30: Jens Krasilnikoff (AU), Animal husbandry in Greek antiquity and Ferdinand Braudel: Some historiographic observations on animal lore and Mediterraneanism

Kasper Lynge Tipsmark (AU), Early modern tournaments – Equine culture and the role of the horse at the court of Christian IV 1588-1648

14:30-15:00: Coffee

15:00-16:30: Jeppe Büchert Netterstrøm (AU), The peasant and the fox. Reynard the Fox as a breaker of the peace in a Danish poaching trial (16th century)

Mary Hilson (AU), "This little piggy went to market..." The history of the pig in Danish modernity: food, farming and markets

16:30-17:00 Concluding discussion

Organized with the support of the Research Programme in History. All welcome, no need to register.

